

FIGHTING TO PROTECT THE TORRES STRAIT FROM CLIMATE CHANGE

UNCLE PAUL AND UNCLE PABAI

TORRES STRAIT

People living in the Torres Strait Islands are at serious risk of becoming Australia's first climate refugees. Two Traditional Owners from the Guda Maluyligal Nation are taking the Australian Government to the Federal Court for their failure to act.

Uncle Paul (he/him) and Uncle Pabai (he/him) hail from the islands of Boigu and Sabai - both of which are already being flooded during storms and King Tides. Their families have thrived there on Country for over 65,000 years - now, they risk losing everything. They are determined to protect their human rights and their communities, before it's too late - and we stand with them.

Call on the Australian Government to take real climate action in line with science to protect the Torres Strait Islands and the human rights of First Nations peoples.
